Not illustrated. 1903 Excerpt: . to the formation of lofty ideals, helps one to a command of good English, and in a hundred ways refines, and inspires to high and noble endeavor. This is the cultural education leading to appreciation and enjoyment man is assumed to possess. Think not, however, that I deprecate the peculiar work of the Engineering College. It is by this kind of education alone that America has already become supreme in nearly all lines of material advancement. I am only anxious that the men who have made these things possible shall reap their full share of the benefits. In conclusion let me congratulate you on having selected courses of study which will bring you into the most intimate relations with the world s work of your generation. All life today is one endless round of scientific applications of means to ends, but such applications are still in their infancy. A decade now sees more material progress than a century did in the past. Not to be scientifically trained in these matters is equivalent today to a practical exclusion from all part and share in the industrial world. The entire direction of the world s industry and commerce is to be in your hands. You are also charged with making the innumerable new discoveries and inventions which will come in your generation and almost wholly through men of your class. The day of the inventor, ignorant of science and of nature s laws, has gone by. The...
