The real things of life impress themselves upon our brains, through our senses, and are grouped as so many mental pictures in the various complex relations which they hold to one another. In studying Geography the child very early gains ideas or mental pictures of different scenes and places, and it is of the utmost importance that these pictures be not only true, but living ideas of the things themselves. It should be impressed upon every child that Geography is a part of his everyday life, not a mere learning of the names of places, but a living reality. The imagination - that quality of the brain which enters so largely into child life, peopling its wonderland with fairies and creations of fancy - is the one element needful in gaining the, ideas of real things. In proportion as a study stimulates the imaginative faculty does it near the end in view of all study - that of creating a fulness of interest in life and in the lives of every man and woman. The purpose of this book is to bring this conception of Geography to the teacher's mind. The map is a means of gaining clear ideas of the positions of places on the earth's surface in relation to one another. We all carry mental maps in our brains. Our sense of direction is often determined by the early use or 4 misuse of maps. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
