Juliana of Norwich was born about 1342 and was a recluse attached to the Church of Saint Julian. She explains the various methods she received these revelations. By bodily sight, I have said as I saw, as truly as I can . By words formed in mine understanding, as for the words formed, I have said them right as our Lord shewest me them . By ghostly sight. But the ghostly sight . I may never fully tell it. Let us consider her three desires: The first was, to have mind of Christ's Passion. The second was, bodily sickness. The third was, to have of God's gift three wounds. Describing the Cosmos she was shown: In this little thing I saw three parts: The first is that God made it. The second is that He loves it. The third is that God keeps it. God showed me full great pleasance that He has in all men and women that mightily and meekly and worshipfully receive the preaching and the teaching of Holy Church. For He is...
