Or do they droop, negleeted, Upon the thirsty soil? n. O, Master, I have labored--I have wearied--I have wept-- And through the live-long hours. My lonely vigils kept. I wish to be found faithful--Unto thy serviee true; Yet will my flowers wither For all that I ean do. in. Sometimes one rears in beauty Its blooming, blushing head; But ere 1 triumph o er it, Its loveliness hath fled: Sometimes one grows too wildly, Or turns perehanee awry, And if I prune or train it, It seems to droop and die. IV. Close elinging to earth s bosom, Some sweet exotie lies; With anxious eare I nurse it, And every petal prize: But when its buds, fresh bursting, Give promise of mueh fruit,...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
