Not illustrated. 1898 Excerpt: .for the common air would scarcely affect the result to any sensible extent. We shall see immediately that the temperature of the bath makes a very considerable alteration in the cooling effect, and we therefore select the first three results, obtained at nearly the same temperature, in order to indicate the effect of pressure. On referring to Chart No. 3, it will be remarked that these three results range themselves almost accurately in a straight line. Or, by looking to the numbers in the last column, we arrive at the same conclusion. Cooling Effect Experienced by Hydrogen in Passing Through a Porous Plug. Not having been able as yet to arrange the large apparatus so as to avoid danger in using this gas in it, we have contented ourselves for the present with obtaining a determination by the help of the smaller force-pump employed in our...
