Excerpt from Virginia: With Other Poems He was noted on account of aptitude for study. At ten years of age, he was put to Latin, and before the completion of his twelfth year he had read the Aeneid. In the Fall of 1849, Mr. Bartley became a student in Emory and Henry College: where, after pursuing his studies for three years, (having been absent one year,) he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1855, he enjoyed some lectures in the University of Virginia, and thought of composing a volume on distinguished men of his native State. In 1868-69, Mr. Bartley was a teacher of English in the Baltimore Female College. This writer has contributed verse and prose to many journals, and a few poems written by him, have appeared in three of the leading American Magazines. He is cousin to Judge Thomas W. Bartley, of Washington, D.C. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at This book is a reproduction of an important...
